

Innovative Packaging for Long and Narrow Products

Here's a great packaging system for difficult-to-manage, long and narrow products. Riveted UChannels from Laminations offer strength, simplicity, adaptability, light weight, ease of handling and effective protection. Plus, they make a great-looking package that works especially well for top-loading systems.

Riveted UChannel simplifies 3-sided edge protection. The photo above shows how Riveted UChannel also forms a great top-loading crate for long and narrow products.

Riveted UChannel can be a one-piece unit to provide three-sided edge protection for windows, doors or paneling. Secure blocks to each end and Riveted UChannel becomes an efficient storage tray. Combine two channels into a durable long-length crate that outperforms other systems hands down.

Your Laminations packaging expert can explain how Riveted UChannel can save you time and money. Call your Laminations packaging expert for information and a free sample.
